

Tri-City Volunteers

Helping to make your generosity count!

Back to School help

It's that time of year again when our little ones will be heading back to school. That means back-to-school supplies and clothing. This year as well as every year Tri-City Volunteers is ready to support our needy families thanks to Cynthia Fisher. Every year Cynthia prepares a special package for 1st to 8th graders. She does this all by herself and with no other financial help!

These cute and adorable hand-outs are lovingly created and contain some of the most important things our needy kids will need when they go to school. Pencils, 1st grade reading books and crayons go to the younger kids. The older ones receive solar powered calculators (no batteries needed here!) and locks for lockers. Ms. Fisher is so very thoughtful and does this every year without prompting or help. She just drives up and drops them off.

Now the children of our needy families can be confident when they return to class. Confidence in turn will lead to better grades and more success for our kids. Now many of our Tri-City Volunteers kids don't have to feel ashamed that they don't have adequate supplies when they go back to school.

Cynthia Fisher wins our hearts and appreciation for her great generosity!
